Italy Threatens to Quit League; Natives Win Battle

NATIONS SENT WARNING BY FASCISTS

Duce Fights Sanctions With Wide Embargo On Imports

PUNISHERS ADAMANT

France, England Believe Counter-action Not to Halt League's Plan

(By The Associated Press)

Fascist Italy threatened implicitly today to leave the League of Nations.

In a warning to the nations participating in the league's sanctions punishment of Italy for its aggression against Ethiopia, Mussolini's government said:

"Would prevent trouble Italy 'has not wished until now to dissociate herself from the Geneva institution despite Italy's opposition to the procedure followed to her danger, because she desires to prevent a conflict, such as that now being considered, from leading to more vast complications."

The warning to the sanctionist nations which challenged the league's authority to place sanctions in the hands of a coordination committee, and which rejected the accusation Italy violated its league covenants in invading Haile Selassie's empire, was contained in a note sent direct to the nations and not to the league.

Threaten Reprisals In addition to the threat of withdrawal from Geneva, it threatened further economic reprisals.

At the same time, in an official decree, the Duce proclaimed Italy's economic independence from the sanctionist nations.

The Fascist government placed an embargo on the importation of 197 products, except under strict (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

S. D. FAIR ENDS UNTIL JAN. 15

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 12. (AP)—Workmen took over Balboa park today for two months of refurbishing and reconstruction to prepare the way for the reopening of the California Pacific International exposition Jan. 15.

The first session of the big fair that drew approximately 4,750,000 paid admissions closed at midnight with "taps" and the lowering of the colors, but it was not until 2 a. m. that the gates were finally shut and the last footstep of a spectator ushered out.

Bruno Appeals

Still in his "death house" cell at Trenton, N. J., Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted kidnaper and murderer of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., today petitioned the United States supreme court for a review of his case. Hauptmann is shown looking through the bars of his cell where he was sent following his conviction in Flemington, N. J., early this year. (For details please see Page 9.)

WOMAN DIES IN COLLISION

County Traffic Deaths Now Total One Over Entire Year 1934

Killed in county traffic accidents this year 53
Killed in county traffic accidents same time last year 47

Orange county's traffic fatalities for the year thus far totaled 53 today, one more than the total for the entire year 1934, as the result of a terrific head-on crash between two automobiles last night on the Coast highway near Corona del Mar that resulted in the death of a woman.

The victim of the fatal crash was Mrs. Elinore Louise Bachelor Jepson, 36, of 571 Agate street, Laguna Beach.

In Brother's Car Mrs. Jepson was a passenger in a car driven by her brother, H. A. Bachelor, 40, Chicago, who has been visiting at the home of his sister in Laguna Beach. Mr. Bachelor's car collided at 7 o'clock with a machine driven by Jesse Jay Bullard, 3538 Front street, San Diego.

Mr. Bullard and two passengers in his car, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riley of Santa Monica, miraculously escaped injury. Both cars, according to witnesses, were virtually demolished.

Dies In Hospital Mrs. Jepson rushed in to a private car to Laguna Beach Emergency hospital where she expired a short time after her arrival. Her body has been removed. (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Party Marooned on Rock Without Water For Days, Say Sailors

MANILA, Nov. 12. (AP)—The United States navy destroyer Peary wireless today that "three crew men of the Silverhazel were picked up from a life raft at 5:15 p. m." The message indicated that rescue had begun of 54 persons of the wrecked British freighter in San Bernardino Straits.

The rescued sailors, who are Hindus, said the castaways had been without food or water for two days.

Storm Far Off Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, Philippines commander, agreed to dispatch two bomber planes to attempt tomorrow to attempt rescue.

The destroyer Bulmer, dashing from Manila, is due at the same time, and will aid the destroyer Peary and other vessels in renewed rescue efforts.

Naval officers expected to have the entire party rescued long before a typhoon, forming off the island of Yap 1200 miles due east of the wreck, reached the Philippines. Government forecasters here said it would be two or three days before the tropical storm would strike the islands.

Passengers Safe "Efforts to reach the rock with boats were unsuccessful," radioed Comdr. P. P. Powell, commandant of Destroyer Division 15 who is aboard the Peary directing rescue operations. "The boats barely succeeded in returning."

His reports said the passengers and the crew could be seen during (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

BANKERS URGED TO AID CREDIT

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 12. (AP)—Heads of two government financial agencies urged members of the American Bankers Association today to look forward to shouldering demands for capital now supplied by the government, but one cautioned "not too soon."

"I feel that banks should make more courageous efforts to substitute private for government credit," said Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, addressing the bankers.

Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation added the assertion that he was "as anxious as any of you can possibly be that the government get out of the money lending business as soon as possible." Then he warned it "should not get out too soon."

Earth's Curves Seen By Fliers 13 Miles Up

KIMBALL, S. D., Nov. 12. (AP)—A panorama of the surface of the earth curving down to the horizon just as Columbus had pictured it more than 400 years ago, was one of the vivid remembrances Capt. Orvil A. Anderson, pilot of the army air corps-National Geographic stratosphere flight, brought back to earth with him.

"The downward curvature was plainly visible," he said. The horizon was somewhat blurred, and I believe it was at least 400 miles distant."

"I was impressed at the lack of detail in the earth from the 'ceiling' of the flight," he said, after piloting the gigantic balloon, Explorer II, to a new record height of 13 miles. Small towns were indistinct, highways were barely discernible and farms appeared as small checkerboards. "For even greater accomplishments as a result of the expedition into the thin upper air. Valuable information about the cosmic ray, long a puzzle to scientists, was sought by the two airmen who reached an unofficial altitude of 73,000 feet, the highest point ever reached by a human.

Studies of sunlight and skylight, observations of sky, sun and earth brightness, studies of wind direction and velocity, checks of barometric altitude scales and study of balloon navigation, were some of the scientific observations recorded by the fliers.

The instruments were reported undamaged when the huge balloon landed.

Long Suffering Woman Beggars Physicians to End Her Life

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 12. (AP)—The Buffalo Times, in a copyrighted story, today published the request of Miss Anna Becker, 34, for the Erie County Medical Association to appoint a physician to take her life because of her belief she never will recover from injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Penniless and in bed for two years, Miss Becker dictated a letter to the medical association. In it she said, The Times stated, that "two years ago I suffered injuries in an automobile accident, the most serious of which is incurable, my doctor tells me."

"I am constantly in pain and I have nothing left to live for. I want to die. "In the name of mercy I ask you to appoint a doctor to take my life. A competent physician could certainly kill me with less pain than I endure in an hour."

"Now I am not only in agony myself, I am a burden to my friends. I have no money to pay my bills. I can never be sure where, or when, my next meal is coming from. Or, for that matter, if it is coming."

URGE SEWAGE PLANTS HERE

County Advised to Build Reclamation Units at Anaheim, Santa Ana

Operation of the experimental sewage reclamation plant in Santa Ana has proven the advisability of reclaiming sewage for irrigation purposes, and the board of supervisors today was advised to seriously consider construction of two plants in the county as a step toward solution of the water problem.

The recommendation was contained in a report submitted by Harry S. Jenks, Berkeley engineer, who supervised construction of the plant.

Operation of two such plants, one southwest of Anaheim and the other near Santa Ana, would not only provide water for irrigation, but would materially reduce maintenance costs for the joint outfall sewer which is estimated at $15,000 annually, the report stated.

Two plants could be constructed for a total cost of $848,600 and each plant would produce annually 6720 acre feet of water conforming to drinking water standards. The water could be produced and delivered to the consumer for $18 per acre foot. Construction of the two plants, Mr. Jenks told the supervisors, would include pipelines for delivery of the product to the various sections of the county for irrigation purposes.

GREETINGS BY MAYOR ARE PLANNED

Famed Culinary Experts In Charge of Classes at Local Theater

BIG PRIZES OFFERED

Newest Recipes, Modern Cookery to Be Shown By Noted Women

When Mayor Fred C. Rowland parts the curtains at the Broadway theater tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock to extend official greetings, The Santa Ana Journal's unparalleled three-day cooking school will be off on a jubilee of modern cookery.

"The Thanksgiving Breakfast by Clock Control" is the first day's program feature, which has been planned by Mrs. Margaret S. Lackland, home service director for Southern Counties Gas company, and home economist in charge of the school.

Guest Director Hazel Blair Dodd, director of home economics from the Los Angeles Herald-Express and famed for her radio talks, will be guest director of the day.

For two hours, the theater will be packed with women interested in knowing what one of the most famous home economists of the Southland has to tell them about modern cookery. Recipes, which will be demonstrated, have been printed in pamphlet form, for distribution to the cooking school attendants.

Bring Pencils Women attending are asked to bring pencils for special instructions and notes they will want to take on the lectures and exhibits.

Previous to the opening of the school, Miss Maud Mosher, internationally known graphologist, will be in the lobby of the theater for an hour's character reading of handwriting.

Throughout the demonstration a Tappan gas range, furnished by the Russell Plumbing company, will be used for the cooking. At the close of the school, a galaxy of gifts will be distributed to the attendants. Each day a gas range is to be presented, and an Electrolux refrigerator on Friday, as a special feature.

Many Prizes Offered Heading the list tomorrow will be a range of the same make as the one used in the school and given by the Russell Plumbing company.

In addition, baskets of groceries will be presented each day from the Alpha Beta market, three pairs of Enna Jettick shoes from the Famous department store, a Waltham kitchen clock, bags of sugar, permanent waves, house (Please Turn to Page 9, Col. 2)

M'LAUGHLIN HAS ANSWER

Hopkins Says Disposal Of Water Grant Up To State WPA Chief

Harry Hopkins, Works Progress administrator at Washington, has batted the big question mark of the Orange county water program back at Frank Y. McLaughlin, WPA head for California. The big question is whether the government grant of $6,574,000, made for carrying out the Elliott plan, can be available for a modified plan.

Mr. McLaughlin told The Journal he didn't know the answers to questions based on this query and would get the information from Washington. The Journal has not heard from him yet.

Today, however, George Kellogg, Yorba Linda, made public a letter from Mr. Hopkins' office which said that "As this project already has the approval of the President and the comptroller general, all further action pertaining to it rests in the hands of State Works Progress Administrator McLaughlin. Once the funds for this project are allocated by the treasury he will decide whether or not, and when it will be started."

The letter was signed by Lawrence Westbrook, assistant administrator at Washington.

Permission Necessary Permission to construct the dam in Riverside county must be obtained if the original control plan is adopted for resubmission to the voters, according to a ruling recently submitted by O'Melveny, Tuller and Meyers, bond experts.

Superior Lyons made the trip to Riverside for a conference with Riverside county supervisors in an effort to obtain that county's permission to construct the Prado dam, major unit of the original flood control project, on the upper site.

Mr. Lyons was scheduled to return in time for the afternoon session of the supervisors, and indications were that no action in the water situation would be taken until the board had been informed as to the attitude of the Riverside board of supervisors.

According to information received from a reliable source, Dr. George C. Randall of Orange is scheduled to present to the board (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

SUPERVISORS DUE TO GET NEW PLAN

Problems Returned To County Board; Smith Takes Trip North

MANY SIGN PETITION

Plea for New Vote On Program in Hands Of Citizens Group

Orange county's water problems were climbing back into the lap of the board of supervisors today.

The citizens' water committee, headed by W. H. Spurgeon, planned to file with the board this afternoon petitions signed by nearly 7000 voters, asking another water bond election.

One member of the board was in Riverside county negotiating with officials there for permission to build the Prado dam, which would flood Riverside county lands.

The modified plan which failed to gain approval of the county's board of consulting engineers was to be presented to the board this afternoon.

Smith in North And finally, Supervisor Willard Smith was in San Francisco conferring with Frank Y. McLaughlin, Works Progress administrator, and Hamilton Cotton, prominent Democrat, supposedly in regard to the federal grant earmarked for the Orange county project.

The modified plan developed by Roy Browning, Irvine company engineer, and F. C. Finkle, San Bernardino engineer, had not been mentioned in the supervisors' session up to noon. The fact that the consulting board of engineers refused to give it their approval was viewed in some quarters as an indication the plan will not be presented.

Mystery on Trip Considerable mystery surrounds the trip of Supervisor Smith to San Francisco. Chairman John C. Mitchell of the board said he left yesterday in response to a call from Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Cotton. The conference, it was said, was in connection with the $6,574,000 federal grant, earmarked for the Orange county project, for use in the event the county provides additional funds for the job.

FLORIDA GROUP CHALLENGES CONSTITUTIONALITY OF TARIFF ACT

COURT RULING SOUGHT ON 1934 LAW

Protest to President Brings Assurance of Quota on Imports

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Notice was served today by the Florida Agricultural Tariff Association that it will seek a court ruling on constitutionality of the 1934 reciprocal tariff act.

The announcement was made by A. M. Loomis, the association's Washington representative. He said George S. Fletcher, Miami, association president, would bring first action in the customs court at New York City and carry it to the supreme court if necessary.

Protests to F. D. R.

His statement was made as officials of the United States and Canada prepared to put final signatures on their new trade agreement. Simultaneously, Representative Coffee (D., Neb.) said a protest he made to President Roosevelt against any lowering of the cattle tariff in that treaty had brought assurances the treaty would provide a quota system if the tariff were reduced.

Loomis quoted Fletcher as saying the results of the Cuban treaty negotiated under the reciprocal tariff act were "disastrous" to Florida growers and property owners.

Would Cut Tariff

As he left the White House, Coffee said he was afraid the treaty which the President and Prime Minister King of Canada agreed upon last week would provide a reduction in the cattle tariff but that with quota limitations it would not be so objectionable to the cattle industry.

Elsewhere it was learned authoritatively that Prime Minister King would make another journey to Washington, possibly this week, to sign the agreement. Secretary Hull is expected to sign the treaty on behalf of the United States. It will be operative as far as this government is concerned as soon as Mr. Roosevelt approves it.

DR. WOELLNER TO ADDRESS SALES CLASS TOMORROW

Dr. Frederic P. Woellner, University of California at Los Angeles, will speak at tomorrow night's sales conference instead of Dr. Florence Morse, it was announced today by W. W. Wieman of the adult education department of the city schools.

The speaker will talk on "Psychology of Salesmanship."

Willard auditorium will be the scene of the lecture which will open at 7:30 o'clock. Last week's attendance proved too large for the library where the meeting was held.

a new modified flood control and conservation plan that would, over a period of years, save more than $8,000,000 through a reduction of original cost and saving of interest by cutting in half the amortization period for bonds.

Under the plan to be suggested by Dr. Randall, all projects, with two exceptions, included in the Elliott plan, would be completed but at a reduced cost.

Savings Told

The new plan, according to the information, provides construction of Prado dam 70 feet high at a cost of $5,000,000 instead of the $7,215,397 estimated in the Elliott plan.

The Santiago dam would be replaced by a 115-foot earth-filled structure at The Narrows, two miles below Irvine park where the water companies now have a small concrete dam. In his report, Dr. Randall, it was said, will point out the advisability of spending $700,000 for construction of this dam rather than the $498,500 now aside in the original program for raising the Irvine dam on Santiago creek.

Dam constructed at The Narrows according to Dr. Randall, would have a capacity of impounding 20,000 acre feet of water and back it up to the Irvine park line.

Spreading Included

The Santa Ana spreading project would be included in the project at the original cost estimate of $375,000. The Carbon canyon conduit would remain in the plan at the original estimate of $141,000, but would be modified to lead the water to near-by spreading grounds. To make this modification, it was pointed out, it would be necessary to obtain the land necessary for spreading grounds from the Anaheim Union Water Company.

The Trabuco dam, costing $617,000, would be eliminated, as would be the Coyote creek cooperative work, costing $147,000.

Other units included in Dr. Randall's modified project are identical with provisions of the Elliott plan and include: San Juan dam, $1,077,000; Carbon canyon dam, $481,000; Brea dam, $697,000; Brea pipeline, $86,000; Fullerton dam, $149,000; and Aliso dam, $110,000.

Costs Are Told

Cost of the project would be $8,821,000, plus 20 per cent, or $1,764,000, for army engineers, making a total of $10,585,000, of which $6,374,000 would be a federal grant and $4,211,000 obtained through a county-wide bond issue.

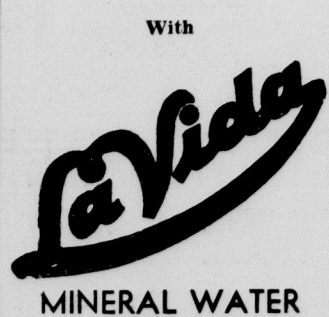

It is said that Dr. Randall would point out to the supervisors the advisability of fixing the interest rate on bonds to be raised by the county at 4 per cent instead of 6 per cent, and arrange for amortization of the bonds within 20 years instead of the 40-year period allowed in the last bond proposal. This, he pointed out, would effect a saving of $8,812,000 in interest alone.

3 SHIPS TIED UP AT SAN PEDRO

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Nov. 12. (AP)—Unable to unload so-called "hot" cargo, three freighters were tied up here today as a result of union longshoremen's refusal to handle shipments taken on in Gulf of Mexico ports, where a longshoremen's strike is in progress.

The three vessels affected here are the Katrina Luckenbach, the Point Montara and the Matthew Luckenbach.

YOUTHS CHARGED WITH BURGLARY

Three Stanton youths, ages 13, 14 and 15, were taken into custody by Deputy Sheriffs G. F. McKelvey and R. R. Lutes today, and charged with burglary, following an investigation into the burglary last night of the Charles E. Bartlett service station in Stanton.

According to a report filed by the arresting officers, the station was entered by forcing the rear door. Three boxes of cigars, 10 cartons of cigarettes, five boxes of candy, and a length of hose from one of the gasoline tanks were stolen. It was through the discovery of the missing length of hose that the officers were able to arrest the three boys as the suspected burglars.

FEMALE CARRIER QUILTS

GRUNDY, Germany. (AP)—Frau Karoline Knoedler, 70, walked a distance equal to almost seven times the earth's circumference before she resigned as Germany's only woman mail carrier. Known as "d'Postkarlena" in native vernacular, or "Mail Carrie," Frau Knoedler delivered letters in her home village for 42 years and thus walked nearly 175,000 miles.

what encouraged by the news that negotiations have been started with Riverside county in the hope of getting its consent to this county building the Prado dam, which would flood Riverside county lands.

W. H. Spurgeon, chairman of the committee, who presided at the executive session, said there was no discussion of the modified water plan developed by Roy Browning, Irvine company engineer, and F. C. Finkle, San Bernardino engineer. He said the committee is ready to support whatever program the board of supervisors deems advisable. The petitions ask the supervisors to call an election on a plan which will meet the minimum needs of the county.

supervision. The embargo goes into effect Monday, the day the league's campaign of sanctions becomes operative.

From all indications, Il Duce's warning was of no avail to him in delaying sanctions.

Premier Pierre Laval, it is understood in reliable Paris quarters, has informed Mussolini France will carry out the campaign as laid down by the league's general sanctions staff of 52 nations.

In London, it was considered inconceivable the Italian protest would have any effect, despite Il Duce's warning of the "gravity of the consequences."

Fascists Use Camels

Italy coupled its threat to leave Geneva with preparations for renewing its drive into the interior of Ethiopia. More of Il Duce's Roman legions moved up to the northern front lines, now spread about and beyond Makale. Two thousand camels were brought up to aid trucks in carrying supplies.

The Reuters correspondent officially that its forces had won a battle at Anleh Ogaden province, killing six Italian officers, driving off the surviving Italians in confusion, and capturing four tanks and two armored cars.

(The Reuters correspondent at Addis Ababa said the Italian force moved to their alleged defeat from Dagah Bur, Ogaden.)

The Daily Rome communique on activities said the army of Gen. Rodolfo Graziani—whose drive has overshadowed the northern army's campaign with its spectacular swiftness in crossing the Ogaden desert—was consolidating the area it has occupied between Italian Somaliland and Sas Baneh.

Italian scouts reported an army of some 177,000 Ethiopian warriors massed in the mountain fastnesses south of Makale in the neighborhood of Amba Alaji.

Major Battle Due

In Addis Ababa, it was expected the battle on the northern front—which would be the first major engagement of the Italian conquest—might be waged this week-end, unless unseasonal rains prevent.

If and when this major battle is waged, Addis Ababa expects heavy casualties in its army because, as the emperor's confidant put it, "we are afraid we cannot keep our northern fighters from throwing themselves with fanatical zeal upon the Italians."

Mrs. Jepson is survived by her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Bachelor, 571 Agate street, Laguna Beach; a daughter, and her brother, H. A. Bachelor.

Other accidents on county highways over the holiday, just reported today, resulted in injury to 10 persons.

John T. Rose, 20, Norwalk truck driver, suffered minor injuries early Sunday, when his truck swerved on the Santa Ana canyon road four miles east of Olive and crashed into a bridge railing. He told officers that the brakes on his truck trailer had locked, causing the truck to swerve.

George W. Hall, 38, Palms, Cal.; Mrs. Mary Ceballos, 34, and her three children, Sarah, 11; Joe, 7, and Frank, 9, all suffered injuries Sunday morning when cars driven by Mr. Hall and Jose Ceballos, 42, of Fullerton, collided at Orange-thorpe and Nicholas avenues west of Anaheim.

A collision at Atwood and Cohler avenues east of Placentia yesterday afternoon resulted in injury to Domingo Ramirez, 19; Louise Dorado, 45; Moile Ramirez, 15, and Andre Vargas, 20, all of Atwood. The cars were driven by Mr. Ramirez and E. F. Borchard, 509 West Washington avenue, Santa Ana.

asked by Mr. Kellogg in his letter of inquiry were these: "Can a reduced project be approved by the voters of Orange county and bonds authorized to complete a part of the original project? Must the entire revised project be submitted to all agencies for approval, and can this be done before Dec. 20? Would your office look favorably upon a request that we be allowed to vote on the project April 5?"

The Journal's inquiry of Mr. McLaughlin asked if the WPA would make the whole federal grant available for a revised project, if the WPA could make an 80 per cent grant, if the WPA would prepare construction plans, who would supervise the work, whether it would be done by contract or day labor, and if it was necessary for the project to be completed within the relief year.

ROBBER DRINKS BEER, TAKES $7.50

When Al Leichfuss entered his cafe, the White Elephant, in Buena Park, yesterday morning, he found an empty beer bottle and a note on the counter. The note, written on a piece torn from an envelope, read, "Thank you."

FLINT BERATES 'RED' RUSSIA

Calvin Flint of the Santa Ana Junior college pulled aside the curtain of propaganda about Soviet Russia last night and gave his listeners over KREG a picture of deplorable conditions that actually exist.

The Russian government, he said, arranges to have tourists see only the favorable aspects of the country, but off the beaten path one can see the truth and the poverty and lack of efficiency, said the speaker.

Third in Series
His talk was the third in a series sponsored by the Minute Men of the Santa Ana American Legion post. The Minute Men are combating radicalism through education.

Mr. Flint said that on his recent visit to Russia he was surprised at the excellence of hotel accommodations until he learned that this excellence was part of the Soviet propaganda to make foreigners think all Russia was prosperous and comfortable. A good many American Communists absorbed all the propaganda unquestionably, said the speaker.

Tells of Poverty
He described a boat trip down the Volga in which he found rigid class distinctions, and extreme poverty in the lower class.

"The farther we went from the beaten tourist path the more noticeable did this class distinction become," said Mr. Flint. "In Kazan, the old Tartar capital, we saw children asleep on the streets, had alms begged of us by elderly couples, and noticed that the majority of the populace was not comfortably cared for."

No unfavorable printed matter or pictures are allowed to leave Russia if the authorities can prevent it, said Mr. Flint.

SWAMPERS FIGHT MALARIA
HAVANA, (AP)—Dr. Rodolfo Ipinia, medical inspector, finding only 15 cases of malaria in the swampy Cienega de Zapata region, learned that people there combated the disease by massaging themselves with infusions of an herb known as "bitter broom." He suggested the health department experiment with the plant.

Burglar alarm in the Quality

I. T. U. AUXILIARY SCHEDULES FUTURE ACTIVITIES

I. T. U. auxiliary members booked dates on their calendar at a business meeting held last night at the home of Mrs. William Lawrence, 1029 Halladay. Mrs. Dean L. was co-hostess.

An international vote on constitutional amendments was set for Tuesday, Nov. 19, from 1 to 4 p. m. at the home of Mrs. E. W. Ellis, 725 Cypress.

The next social meeting will be held Nov. 25 at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. E. Swanger, 2429 Heliotrope drive. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. F. E. Stilwell, Mrs. William Fields and Mrs. J. A. Patison. Members and eligible candidates will be guests. "Beano" will be played.

A date for the Christmas party has not yet been set, but plans were made for a gift exchange, games and a program by members of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Ellis will be hostess to the next business meeting with Mrs. J. W. Parkinson as co-hostess. A dessert course was served at the close of the meeting.

Present last night besides the hostesses were Mesdames C. W. Brakeman, Charles Clayton, Ellis, Carl Fisher, Parkinson, Patison, Mabel Sherwood, Stilwell, C. C. Thrasher, C. A. Rousseau, William Graybiel and V. C. Shidler.

S. A. BAND WINS SECOND PLACE

"Santa Ana's Own" band was awarded second place in the band division in the Anaheim Armistice day parade yesterday instead of third, it was announced today by judges.

Previously it had been announced that the Orange organization received first place, Fullerton second and Santa Ana third. Fullerton, instead of Santa Ana, was awarded third by Oscar Brower and Louis Danz, Anaheim, and Roy Hanks, Long Beach, who judged municipal entries.

New uniforms of the Santa Ana band, oldest in the county, caused considerable comment in the parade. They were designed by Leand Auer, director, and carried out a white and gold color scheme, and rated the organization an almost perfect score from the judges.

Happy Birthday
The Journal today congratulates:
MRS. J. B. SULLIVAN, Buena Park.
MRS. F. H. GOBAR, 311 West Commonwealth, Fullerton.
MRS. RAE WARDEN, Placentia.

STOCKS DROP AFTER FAST OPENING

Heavy Buying Wave In Opening Session Is Followed by Lapse

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—A heavy buying wave swept over the stock market at the start of today's session, but it was of brief duration so far as the general run of equities was concerned.

The ticker tape dropped behind floor transactions in the first half hour as blocks of several thousand shares changed hands at higher prices. Realizing on a broad scale soon succeeded the buying spurge, and, with the ex-

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—Profit taking topped the number of recent stock market leaders today, but there was a noticeable drying up of trading activity on the decline.

Losses ranged from fractions to around 3 points. Communications issues bucked the trend and the railroads were resistant most of the session. The close was heavy. Transfers approximated 2,200,000 shares. Closing prices:

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (AP)—Pronounced weakness became evident in wheat values late today.

Downturns of Chicago prices at this stage followed sharp tumblers of the Minneapolis market. Increases both of the United States and Canadian wheat visible supply totals had a bearish effect, and so, too, did continued uncertainty over Canada's wheat marketing policy.

Wheat closed unstable, 1c to 1 1/2c under Saturday's finish. December 84 1/2-84 3/4c, corn 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c up, December 59 1/2-59 3/4c, oats at 1 1/2c decline to an equal advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15 cents.

WEBER BREAD RICH IN MILK AND BUTTER

Widespread public endorsement of the Weber Baking company's action in increasing the milk and butter content

DALE WEBER
ing to a recent statement by Dale Weber, of the company.

"Weber's gingham-wrapped bread now contains an abundance of all the vital, nutritive elements of milk," said Mr. Weber, "and this makes it not only more nutritious, but adds to its delightful, home-baked flavor as well."

"The main points on which we urge comparison with other breads are freshness, crust, texture, aroma, toasting qualities, flavor, food value, uniformity, color of crumb and keeping qualities," he said.

"Mothers have been very quick to appreciate what this increased quantity of milk and butter means to their growing children—one reason for the tremendous popularity of Weber's bread. They know that it means larger amounts of calcium and phosphorus for bone and teeth building, protein for building and repairing body tissues, oxides for neutralizing excess acids and for enriching the blood, milk sugars for energy, and many of the other important elements without which a child cannot enjoy robust, abundant health."

The Rev. and Mrs. Floyd A.

HANDWRITING EXPERT HERE Featured at Cook School

You can have the experiences of Greta Garbo, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Mussolini or any other famous person this week if you go to The Journal cooking school.

An hour before each day's session opens, Miss Maud Mosher, graphologist who has read the handwriting of celebrities throughout the world, will bring her talents to the cooking school attendants in Santa Ana.

She will give character analyses from any piece of hand-written copy that is presented her.
Hints on getting along with other persons, whose handwriting she will study, will be given by the graphologist. How to avoid quarrels with sweetheart or family will be explained by Miss Mosher, after a survey of writing from the interested person.

A courtesy to cooking school attendants, the service is expected to draw hundreds of women whose friends had their writing analyzed at a previous appearance of Miss Mosher in Santa Ana. Those who received analyses before are invited to have a second study made of them.

DEMONSTRATE COOKERY AID

"Make your food flavors alive."
That is the better-taste appeal of Kitchen Bouquet, which is internationally famous as "the Chef's Flavoring for Home Cooking." Demonstrations of this product will be given at The Journal cooking school classes this week.
Kitchen Bouquet is a concentrated essence of fresh garden vegetables and savory herbs and spices. A small quantity added to gravies, soups, stews and like dishes (before removing from the stove and when just ready to serve) will give them a rich, brown color and an unusually delicious appetizing flavor.

A convenient, economical and reliable aid toward perfection in cooking, Kitchen Bouquet has been exceedingly popular with home cooks and hotel chefs for more than 50 years.

will show.

A complete set of costumes for different types of dress worn in different parts of India also will be exhibited. Eleven young men and women will be chosen to wear the garments. Stereopticon slides showing the people and work in India also will be shown tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Wednesday at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m., the minister and his wife will present different phases of their work and show material which they have with them.

A pot-luck dinner will be served

EXPECT LOTS OF MAIL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12. (AP)— Extra workers at the Los Angeles postoffice will earn between $75-000 and $100,000 during the Christmas holidays, Postmaster H.
B. R. Briggs said today. The Los Angeles postoffice expects to handle 7,000,000 pieces of incoming and outgoing mail during the holiday season.

BEN-HUR SPICES ARE POPULAR

Ben-Hur spices have for many years been the most popular brand sold in the Southwest. This great public acceptance has been entirely due to the outstanding quality. Ben-Hur spices are invariably chosen for demonstration—as in the case of this week's Journal cooking school. In cake baking contests Ben-Hur flavorings are preponderantly used by the winners.

There is a vast difference in the quality of spices, though there is very slight price variation between these best kinds and the inferior kinds. Hence, it is important to the housewife that she knows that in purchasing Ben-Hur spices she gets the finest quality procurable.

Ben-Hur spices are not only absolutely pure and guarantees full strength—but they are thoroughly reclaimed before they are ground in the Ben-Hur plant, making them more appetizing and healthful as well as full flavored.

ACTRESS USES IRIS BRANDS

JANET CHANDLER

Some may argue the need for choosing between home and a career. Janet Chandler sees matters differently. The attractive young film actress finds time to devote to both.

Her increasing popularity on the screen is paralleled, her friends say, by her recognized talent as a culinary expert. In the latter, Miss Chandler frankly gives much credit to her use of the more than 200 fine foods which bear the Iris label, synonymous with "Products of Proven Quality."

"What won me to the Iris standard," says Miss Chandler, "was the uniform goodness of each item. I soon learned I could depend on their unvarying excellence, and such a feeling of confidence is worth a lot."

Like many another home-maker, she has discovered that the freshness of fine fruits, vegetables, and seafoods has been captured by Iris and brought to the table intact.

FARM BUREAU CONVENTION NEXT WEEK

More Than 2000 Are to Take Part in Meet At Santa Cruz

California's annual big-time agricultural meeting, the California Farm Bureau Federation convention, to be held this year in Santa Cruz, Nov. 18 to 21, will break all previous attendance records, it has been announced by Alex. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

More than 2000 California farmers, including producers of perishable, semi-perishable, and non-perishable crops, as well as livestock men, will take part in the four-day session, in which the most important problems facing the state's agriculture will be discussed and recommendations suggested for improving further the economic condition of California's basic industry.

Full Program

The program is crowded with a variety of topics of unusual significance and interest to the farm producers of the state.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam will address the convention, Mr. Johnson announced, and is to be tendered a luncheon by the federation Nov. 20. Another distinguished visitor to address the convention is Donald Kirkpatrick, Chicago, general counsel of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who is to represent American agriculture before the United States supreme court, in the case involving the constitutionality of the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

Many Departments

Departments meeting on the first day of the convention include those representing farm home, deciduous fruit, dairy, poultry, field crops, vegetable growers, citrus fruits, cotton growers, livestock, resolutions, tax committee, credentials and recreation.

"The annual convention of the California Farm Bureau Federation," Mr. Johnson said in a statement, "is open to the general public, and all farmers and their families are invited to attend and take part in the program. California businessmen and industrialists, to whom the economic improvement of agriculture has a far-reaching significance and value, also are invited to attend."

COUNTY WPA JOBS USING 1300 MEN

Nearly 1300 men are now employed on Works Progress Administration projects in Orange county, 100 or that number reporting for activity today. Dan Mulherron, WPA head here, said the total number on various projects on Friday was 1179, and that the estimated case load, or number needing relief, is about 2200.

He said requisitions have been made for 1972 men so far, and that of this number approximately 1600 are expected to have reported for work by the time projects now being prepared get under way. The men representing the difference between 1600 and 1972 either have secured private jobs or are ill, Mr. Mulherron said today.

Sixty men went to work this morning on landscaping of the Huntington Beach elementary school grounds, 11 men started painting work at the Garden Grove High school, while 21 men launched a state project for building restrooms. On Nov. 18 improvement of the Talbert drainage and Newhope drainage district works will start. Each of these projects will employ 42 men.

BIRTHDAY BALL IS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—A committee headed by Henry L. Doherty, the utilities magnate, is making arrangements for another nationwide "birthday ball" to honor President Roosevelt and provide funds for fighting infantile paralysis.

The President was asked by Doherty to lend his fifty-fourth birthday anniversary Jan. 30 "to this great humanitarian cause." Before agreeing to the plan, Mr. Roosevelt communicated with the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Basil O'Connor, treasurer of the foundation, recommended that 70 per cent of funds from the dances be retained locally for after-treatment, and that 30 per cent be turned over to the chief executive for presentation to the foundation "for the continuance and extension of its part in the nationwide fight against infantile paralysis."

All other troops will be permitted to participate in the field day, only those scoring the trials will be permitted to compete for prizes.

The boys tested their skill Saturday in 10 events: Fire by friction, dressing, pup tent pitching, string burning, pyramid building, centipede rope race, antelope race, signaling, skin-the-snake race and fireman's carry.

There were approximately 150 boys participating in Saturday's trials, representing Santa Ana, Tustin, Garden Grove, Costa Mesa, Newport Beach, San Juan Capistrano, San Clemente and Laguna Beach.

The winning teams from this district will compete with other winners from other sections in the county. Mr. White said that while

HOUSE LOANS PACE KEPT UP HERE

Santa Ana and the surrounding communities of this district have maintained the pace set by other residential communities in Southern California in the matter of Title II, long-time home-mortgage loans, according to F. W. Marlow, district director, Southern California, Federal Housing Administration.

"Up to Nov. 1 in this territory, there has actually been issued 73 insurance commitments calling for a dollar value of $262,250.55 he said. "Of this total it is significant that 34 of the loans calling for an expenditure of $164,060 cover new construction. The communities embraced in these figures are Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Orange, Fullerton, Anaheim, Brea, Laguna Beach and Newport Beach."

"Santa Ana is leading with 32 Title II commitments totaling $113,430. In Santa Ana as in other cities in Southern California the building permits reflect the effect of the national housing act program, showing that home owners and prospective home owners in this community have availed themselves of the benefits and protection of the national housing act. There has been a very definite stimulation of business for a corresponding beneficial effect on the purchasing power of the industry within the city and the surrounding communities."

QUEZON SALUTE IS SLICED He'll Only Hear 19 Guns

MANILA, Nov. 12. (AP)—Filipino enthusiasm over the Philippine commonwealth government to be inaugurated Friday was jolted today.

It was learned authoritatively that the matter of prestige, which is of paramount importance in the Far East, had presented itself in preparations for launching the new regime.

Secretary of War George H. Dern ruled that both Manuel

Quezon, as president, and Frank Murphy, as high commissioner, should get 19 gun salutes. Previously, the program provided for 21 guns for Quezon and 19 for Murphy.

Twenty-one guns are reserved traditionally for heads of sovereign states. The American flag is scheduled to fly a decade longer in the Philippines and the United States will retain weighty responsibilities.

HAUPTMANN ASKS SUPREME COURT TO SAVE HIM FROM CHAIR

PETITION OF 32 PAGES IS SUBMITTED

Justices Expected To Decide Dec. 23 on Review of Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann appealed to the supreme court today to save him from the electric chair for the murder and kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh, jr.

A 32-page petition filed by Egbert Rosencrans, counsel for Hauptmann, asked a new trial on the ground that the stolid German carpenter had been convicted after a trial which resembled a "circus."

The petition also contended Hauptmann's constitutional rights had been violated in the sensational-packed trial at Flemington, N. J.

Decision Dec. 23
Supreme court attaches said the nine justices probably would announce on Dec. 23 whether they would review his conviction. That would give Hauptmann either glad tidings or mournful news for a Christmas present.

If a review were granted, attaches said arguments normally would be heard in February or March, and final decision could be expected a few weeks thereafter.

Sometimes, however, criminal cases are advanced to expedite a decision. Rosencrans said today he would not oppose that action.

Review Contentions
The Hauptmann petition contended that the jury was "unduly influenced" by the daily presence of Colonel Lindbergh at the trial, by the "inflammatory" summation of state counsel, and by "hysterical mob spirit."

These points previously had been raised in an unsuccessful appeal to New Jersey's highest tribunal, the court of errors and appeals.

The supreme court also was asked to permit the taking of additional testimony, a request denied by the New Jersey court.

No Oral Argument
Rosencrans' petition will be served on the state of New Jersey within the next 10 days. The state will have 20 days thereafter to answer. The court will decide without oral argument whether to review the case, and may hand down its decision late in December or early in January.

Should the court refuse to review the case, Hauptmann would die in the electric chair early next year unless the New Jersey court of pardons commuted his sentence to life imprisonment. If the review is granted, the supreme court would probably hear oral arguments next term. Execution has been stayed pending disposition of the supreme court appeal.

SESSIONS OF PETROLEUM MEN OPEN

Group, Meeting Today In L. A., Is Against More U.S. Control

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12. (AP)—With official opposition recorded to extension of federal control in state and local affairs, the current federal spending policies and government competition with private enterprise, the American Petroleum institute convened in its first general session here today.

The institute's board of directors voted an emphatic "no" to resolutions on these questions, while approving a declaration that all grants of authority by congress to government executive departments should be within clearly defined limits. Government competition in industry was opposed whether for regulatory or other purposes.

Election Vote Today
Election of officers was the first general business of the general session, opening at 2:30 p. m., with incumbents apparently slated for re-election.

Chicago appeared favored for the next convention city. The last meeting was held in Dallas.

"The federal government has no authority to regulate the oil industry," declared Axtell J. Byles, institute president, who asserted this function must be left to the states.

Seven States Lead
"When California becomes a party to the interstate oil compact, the ills of the petroleum industry will be solved."

Seven states were credited with producing more than 95 per cent of the nation's oil and gas, with California the greatest producer outside of the compact, which includes Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

Belief that no danger of a gasoline shortage exists for many years to come was expressed by many of the upwards of 3000 oil men here for the meeting.

Perdier Deeper Wells
New methods of refining were declared to have greatly increased the percentage of gasoline extractable from crude oil, while wells of 10,000-foot depth were reported opening up pools not reached by old methods of drilling. Even greater depth was predicted for the future.

Baird H. Markham, chairman of the taxation committee, scored what he said was a growing tendency in many states to divert gasoline tax revenues from highway construction and maintenance to other purposes. He urged repeal of the federal 1-cent tax on gasoline and reduction of other taxes, in some cases totaling as high as 12 cents.

NEW MEXICO WINS TAX CASE REVIEW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—New Mexico state officials won a supreme court review yesterday in their effort to collect the state's 5-cent a gallon tax on gasoline used by a bus line on the state's highways but bought outside the state.

The court agreed to review the ruling of a three-judge federal district court last July 19 which granted an injunction against the tax to the Golden Eagle Western Lines, Inc., which operates interstate busses through New Mexico.

DIPLOMAT IN FORUM TALK TONIGHT

Nicholas Roosevelt To Speak at Fullerton High School

From his background as a diplomat, writer and journalist, Nicholas Roosevelt will bring his opinions in a speech tonight in the Fullerton High school on the Orange County forum program for November. The lecture begins at 8 o'clock.

"Who Owns America?" will be the speaker's topic.

Former United States minister to Hungary and former vice governor of the Philippine Islands, Mr. Roosevelt has had a wide experience with international problems.

Harvard Graduate
Last year when Miss Clara Morley, director of the forum, tried to get Mr. Roosevelt for the forum, his paper, the New York Herald-Tribune, felt they could not give him a leave of absence.

The speaker was born in New York City. Upon graduation from Harvard in 1914 he received the appointment of attaché to the American embassy in Paris. From 1916 to 1917, he was secretary to the mission to Spain, representing the American International corporation. In 1917-18 he served as captain of the 322nd Infantry, U. S. A., and was then attached to the American committee to negotiate peace.

Cousin of President
Following a varied career of international journalism, he was appointed vice governor of the Philippines and then minister to Hungary.

Of interest at this time are his family relationships. He is a cousin of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and his father was a cousin of Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

His papers will be available at the door of the auditorium for those without season tickets.

LOSSES HEAVY IN 4 YEARS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Figures showing that depression lopped $26,621,000,000 off the nation's business from 1930 to 1934, inclusive, were made available for the first time Monday by the commerce department.

The figures were estimates showing how much income the nation produced, that is the value of goods and services, against the amount it paid out, or dollars actually distributed in wages, dividends and the like.

In 1934 the loss was $1,628,000,000, a drop of about half from the loss of $3,051,000,000 in 1933.

The loss represents the amount the country's corporations drew from their previously established surpluses to pay dividends, wages and other expenses. They paid out more than they produced in every year since 1929, when there was a business saving of $2,402,000,000.

F. D. R.'S EXERCISE COUNTS

Daily Routine Is Described

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—The systematic daily exercise taken by President Roosevelt was suggested today by Capt. Ross T. McIntire, U. S. N., White House physician, as a good idea for all the people.

The President swims for 20 minutes in the white-tiled White House pool five nights a week and follows this with a thorough massage.

All in all he devotes about an hour and 15 minutes of each of five evenings to exercise before dinner.

In Good Condition
"In my opinion," said Captain McIntire, "Mr. Roosevelt was never in better condition at any time since he has been in office."

Captain McIntire recalled afresh the fishing ability shown by the President's tussle of two hours and 20 minutes landing a fighting 134-pound sailfish off Cocos island in the Pacific.

There he remains until quitting time around 6 o'clock, when he goes for the plunge in the pool. Dinner is about 7:45 o'clock and always prompt when Mrs. Roosevelt is home.

Evenings are varied. Many times there are motion pictures; quite often there is work, including talks with government leaders. But Mr. Roosevelt usually finds time to get in a little work on the stamp book during the week.

He counts on eight hours of sleep—and usually gets it.

CHIEF, SHERIFF NEAR AS MAYOR'S HAT STOLEN!
LOS ANGELES. The hat which Mayor Frank L. Shaw wore today was not the new gray chapeau he donned yesterday. He left it on a chair when he arose to review an Armistice day parade. When he sat down, the hat was gone. What puzzled him particularly was that his chair was located between those of Police Chief James Davis and Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz.

Mrs. Jack Vallely Strikes Witty Note In Current Talk to Ebell Clubwomen

See-Saw Seen In Politics, She Says

President's Daughter Reads 'Flanders Field,' Clubwomen Sing

Striking a humorous note under which ran a deeper note of speculation as to political days to come, Mrs. Jack Vallely used the current "see-saw" song as her opening jingle in addressing Santa Ana Ebell clubwomen at their meeting yesterday afternoon in the Ebell clubhouse.

"The American people are seeing in their opinion of current politics and politicians," she commented. "The situation is generally true. Stanley Baldwin has been prime minister of England three times in the past 16 years, for example."

Mrs. Vallely mentioned the change in leadership in the past 16 years, drawing attention to the fact that David Lloyd-George is the only leader who has survived the passing years. President Wilson and Georges Clemenceau, the men of yesterday, are gone, she said.

Praises Next Speaker

Four Republicans who will wield influence in the coming presidential campaign are Senator William Borah, Col. Frank Knox, Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas and Herbert Hoover, she said.

Mrs. Vallely spoke in praise of Marguerite Harrison, whose book, "There's Always Tomorrow," she reviewed, and who will address Ebell at its next meeting, Monday, Nov. 25, in the clubhouse. At the Nov. 25 meeting, all charter members of Ebell are to be guests of honor, and those who cannot be contacted by the club are being urged to attend whether or not they receive personal invitations.

The first two books reviewed were in direct contrast, "Government in Business" (Stuart Chase), urging partial government ownership, and "The War of the Copper Kings" (C. B. Glasscock) advocating extreme individualism. The reviewer was not very partial to the next two books, "Jane Addams" (James Weber Linn) and "The Living of Charlotte Perkins Gilman," autobiography.

Lists Good Reading

"And Gladly Teach," Bliss Perry, she mentioned as a book well worth reading. "Whether There Be Knowledge" (Robert Henderson), she considered an admirable picture of college life minus the "rah-rah" element.

"Valiant is the Word for Carrie" was mentioned as good reading, though with an off-color moral element in its plot. "Miss Marlowe" (Esther Forbes) was lauded for its character delineation.

"The Stars Look Down" she called Dr. Cronin's fine story of mining conditions. "Spring Came on Forever" (Bess Streeter Aldrich) and "Vein of Iron" (Ellen Glasgow) were cited as excellent portrayals of Scotch-Irish people in Virginia and Germans in Nebraska.

The business session, conducted by Mrs. Fred Rowland, was brief. The president's daughter, Miss Barbara Rowland, read "Flanders Field" in observation of Armistice day, and the clubwomen sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and saluted the flag.

It's grand and warm in a novelty woolen, rabbit's hair, challis or jersey. Complete, Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

When Married Life Gets Dull, Blow Off; Then 'Kiss and Make Up'

By MARY STODDARD

Lupe Velez's storm life with her mate, Johnnie Weismuller, has moved many a less tempestuous citizen to wonder why they put up with each other. Lupe explained it all very simply when she finished her South American tour recently.

"I fight with him because I like to make it up," Lupe and Johnnie, being movie folk, considerably over-emphasize their emotions, but the idea is one which many a married couple of less explosive habits may well take to heart. Sometimes I think there aren't enough spats in married life.

CONCLAVES, BOOKS, COOKING, BUSINESS INCLUDED IN 'NEWS'

What's to be done at Calexico in the southern district convention, what to cook, what to read and to do in the garden—it's all in the current California Federation News, federation magazine, which reached its readers yesterday and today.

Calexico Woman's Improvement club will keep open house in its historic clubrooms the first day of convention. Handwork of the five counties in the district will be shown. Thursday afternoon will feature an inspirational address by Miss Josephine G. Seaman, junior past state president.

Mrs. E. E. Smith of Anaheim, state chairman of literature, who was busy last month visiting clubs of the northern district, lists recent books worth reading.

Readings are side by side with "Hints for Federation Gardeners," by Mrs. C. M. Denkins of Newport Beach, district gardens chairman, who each Wednesday writes garden notes for The Journal's readers.

A Modern Kitchen Setting

Illustrated here is the modern kitchen setting that will be used on the stage. It is beautifully finished in black tiling, cream woodwork with a faint edging of Chinese red. While this setting was "man made" it was designed by women out of their years of experience in kitchens. It is so arranged that it saves thousands of needless steps which so many women make week after week in poorly planned kitchens.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

THE JOURNAL invites the women of Santa Ana and Orange county to be its guests tomorrow, Thursday and Friday at the Broadway theater, where the most elaborate cooking school ever held in Santa Ana is to be conducted under the direction of Margaret Lackland, home economist for the Southern Counties Gas company.

Her distinguished guest-directors for this occasion are Hazel Blair Dodd, of the Los Angeles Herald-Express for Wednesday; Marian Manners of the Los Angeles Times home service bureau for Thursday, and Prudence Penny, home service director of the Los Angeles Examiner for Friday. The reputation of these three women in the field of home economics is such an unusual presentation that Mrs. Lackland urges the presence of her guests at every one of the three sessions to be held from 9:30 to 11:30 at the Broadway theater.

In addition to the home economic subjects, the school will present Miss Maude Mosher, internationally famous graphologist and personal problem psychologist, who will give character analysis from your handwriting.

Prize awards are far beyond anything heretofore offered, but the information the experts will offer far outweighs anything intrinsically presented.

The event is extraordinary and unusual, and The Journal not only invites you, but urges you to come early and stay late, and assures you it will be an event not soon to be forgotten.

TAX BURDENS? READ THIS!

IT IS unpleasant to be bored, and tax talk often is boring—but we can't resist the temptation to run this list of 90 separate and distinct taxes paid by Californians:

County, city, and district levies include ad valorem taxes on real property and ad valorem taxes on personal property.

State levies include taxes on retail sales, the use tax, taxes on personal income, truck transportation, insurance premiums, ocean marine insurance, the bank franchise tax, the corporation franchise tax, taxes on automobiles, liquor, beverages, inheritance, gasoline, fertilizer tonnage, agricultural mineral tonnage, boxing and wrestling exhibitions, fish packing, and on gross receipts of common carriers.

Federal levies include personal incomes tax, surtax on personal holding companies, corporation income tax, capital stock tax, excess profits tax, estate tax, gift tax, tax on produce future contracts, on gasoline, electrical energy, theater admissions, club dues, cable dispatches, leased wires, pipe line transportation, radio dispatches, lease deposit boxes, telegraph messages, telephone messages, passenger automobiles, trucks, auto accessories, brewers' wares, cameras, carbonic acid gas, cereal beverages, chewing gum, fireworks and cartridges, fountain syrups, fruit juices, grape juice, grape concentrate, fur, inner tubes, jewelry, lubricating oils, malt, matches, mechanical refrigerators, motorcycles, opera glasses, phonograph records, radios, fish oil, sporting goods, tires, toilet preparations, tooth paste and mouth washes, watches, mineral waters, bonds issued, bonds transferred, deeds, foreign insurance premiums, passage tickets, playing cards, stock issues, stock transfers, distilled liquors, wines, malt liquors, cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, oleomargarine, on vegetable oils, crude petroleum and refining of crude petroleum.

It would be a strange man who could read this list and not refrain from joining the fight on increasing taxation.

HOW WARS ARE STARTED

WE MAY not have another world war but we are getting close to the rim.

The Japanese are unloading marines in Shanghai, the British are on edge with Italy, Russia is executing a few revolutionists, and the United States is issuing notes declaring it will keep out of war.

A fight starts and then some bystander decides it's about time for him to take sides. So he breaks in and then some other observer thinks he should throw his support to one side or the other, and before the melee is ended you have several parties in the fight who had no intention of getting into it in the first place.

Emotion does a lot to us. Sometimes our sympathies get the better of our judgment. We get into something we can't get out of, and before the dispute is settled several thousand men have gone to the front who won't come home again.

You know the system of sanctions isn't such an innocent weapon after all, if everybody lives up to the scheme. It's an economic application of withdrawal effective in its results, and paralyzing in its continuation. If armies are not fed they can't fight. And the method does not require sending an army into the field. If you withhold food and money long enough you can ruin any war.

WHAT'S THE USE?

(Ohio State Journal)

JOHN STEVEN MCGROARTY of California is a man of poetic nature, and as such should be able to find beauty and attractiveness in places where more prosaic souls would fail. But the congressman, who is incidentally a democrat without the yes-man complex, lets it be known that he is filled chock full of repugnance for Washington and new dealism.

He's going to quit in disgust, because, he says, there's no use spending his time in Washington. "This country is not governed by congressmen, but by a bunch of bureaucrats, each entrenched in his own bureau by the political system—entrenched so securely nobody can dislodge them."

This isn't exactly an inspiring picture the congressman gives, but it's impressive. We know that the government has changed from a democracy to a bureaucracy. We've seen the bureau-fostering administration demand more and more bureaus, and get them. These bureaus are filled with alphabetical apparel and oddities, ranging from the brain trust mortar boards, with red tassels, to the Wallace pigstickers and the spud bluejean.

They've cut up the ship of state to make it into bureaus. No wonder Congressman McGroarty is "regusted." So are millions of others.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Ernest Hemingway became the white-haired boy of the cafes and night clubs on his recent metropolitan visit. Broadway usually lavishes its lionizing on a radio, movie or stage star. But, with the exception of Michael Arlen, seldom an author.

Press agents who could entice Hemingway to a front row table and then have his presence noised about were certain of a tilt in the evening. That's a branch of the p. a.'s art these days—landing a celebrity and tipping it off to the fanners.

Hemingway was symbolic of the great out-doors to the pallid patrons of the city night spots. The stalker of lions, the deep sea brawler with the barracuda and frequenter of the Spanish bull rings. What is more, he gave the impression of being unconscious of his celebrity.

He engaged in florid arguments at the bars with casual toss-pots, seemed to enjoy the floor shows and walked out sober at dawn. Somewhat a phenomenon in the usual burr. He gave cafe society a chance to boast: "As I said to Hemingway last night at—"

I like to watch a cafe torch singer bob into the room with animation a short while before she puts on her act and then watch her drift back to her special table in melancholy haze after her lament is finished. She seems unable to shake off her sadness—gazing upon the surrounding gaiety as one thoroughly disillusioned. When she dances—a waiting boy friend is always about—she moves in trance-like shuffles, lost in a morass of unrequited hopes. It's art casting a spell, or grand acting. One guest to each customer.

Mrs. Grace Coolidge came to town recently to discuss a magazine assignment and Arthur McKeogh attempted to aid in making her visit as pleasant as possible. He selected a sedate Guild show for the evening and after the play escorted the former president's widow to the high-handshake Rainbow Room. Mrs. Coolidge thought she would like a chocolate sundae. The waiter was doubtful, but scurried away and returned to announce it could not be secured. So McKeogh archly inquired if they had vanilla ice cream. They had. He then brought and Mrs. Coolidge had a bootleg chocolate sundae.

The movies have developed a sudden, furious band of hisses. Especially news reels. The disapproval is not always a question of political faith. Sometimes it becomes religious and at times sharply personal, as when the ruin of the sideswiped automobile was recently shown with a close-up of the Roosevelt boys. Hissing and jeers were shockingly pronounced.

When Booth Tarkington was flossing up his coastal summer home at Kennebunkport, Maine, he decided to decorate the large combination work and living room in appropriate marine style. It was hung with lanterns of long-gone galleons, bits of anchor chain and myriad other heavy trumbrances suggesting a ship. He was at the time entering a long darkness that for awhile physicians thought would become an eternal night. But after a year or so partial vision was restored. And as objects began to take shape, he ripped out the maritime decorations and substituted vivid paintings, canvas splashes of sun rises and sunsets, wild flowers and vivid tapestries of unimaginable hue. Like all emerging from a mantle of darkness, he craved the flair of rich colors.

Oddly enough, writers, whose eyes are put to terrific strain, seldom lose their sight. The only one of the modern crop I know about is Dr. Alex Munthe, who wrote "The Story of San Michele." But he was going blind when he began to write. Deafness is a more common affliction among literary folk and its ravages include Rupert Hughes, Carolyn Wells, Ellen Glasgow, Royal S. Brown and William MacFee.

Comedie de chien: The two Bostons were outfitted with Burgundy red winter sweaters today. When brought together they sprang instantly into furious battle with death-like grips. Almost as suddenly their holds loosened, they snuffed, tail wagged and trotted out together for an airing. Each was too duded up to recognize the other, it appears.

JAIL HAS 'WAITING LINE'

FORT SCOTT, Kas. (AP)—There's a waiting line at the Bourbon county jail here. The jail, capacity 25, is full. Judge W. F. Jackson instructed four men who have from six months to a year to serve to report back later when the necessary accommodations would be had.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The spectre of inflation, standing grimly behind the scenes, has been seriously to disturb the peace of mind of the administration.

Ominous signs of a strong inflationary undertow are unmistakable. Real estate values are booming, commodity prices are on the wing, and the stock market is as restless as a boy with the hives. Added to these is the presence of an unprecedented total of $3,000,000,000 in bank reserves.

The situation is as explosive as a cache of TNT, and to say that administration master minds are worried is putting it mildly.

Reason for their uneasiness is that they are undecided just what policy to pursue. They can clamp down at the start and risk nipping the briskly blooming prosperity rose in the bud. Or they can let matters take their course with the danger of a run-away market and a crash just as the presidential campaign is getting under way.

The temptation to keep hands off is very strong. A lively stock market, active real estate values and commodity prices on the upgrade are potent electioneering medicine. But on the other hand, a boom followed by a crash in the midst of the campaign would have disastrous political repercussions.

So the New Dealers are scratching their heads in perplexity—torn between the tempting urge to take a flyer and gnawing fear that if their luck fails they will be caught short in the very vortex of the 1936 campaign.

WHIP HAND

The unique factor in the situation is that the New Dealers can take either course they choose. The government now has the complete whip hand to crack down on an inflationary trend.

The 1933 and 1935 banking laws, plus the securities and stock exchange acts, give it power to exercise full control—provided there is the will and courage to do so. The securities and exchange commission can stop stock manipulation by suspending suspected speculators.

It has already taken such action against one prominent Wall Street broker, Michael J. Meehan. It has sent out confidential orders to its eight branch offices to be on guard for signs of stock-rigging. SEC insiders whisper that certain market movements recently had all the earmarks of "forced pressure stocking."

The new banking statutes supplement the SEC with other powerful measures. They prohibit corporations from lending their surplus funds for stock market operations. In 1928-29 millions of dollars from this source stimulated the frenzied gambling of the Coolidge bull market. The banking statutes also provide for strict curbs on loans by banks to brokers.

In addition, the federal reserve board now has the power to fix marginal requirements. By the stroke of a pen it can raise them so high as to break the back of a run-away market instantly. This authority is so sweeping that the board may, if it sees fit, completely eliminate marginal trading.

Finally, the reserve board has the means at hand to cope with the trouble-breeding problem of excessive bank reserves. Although the banks are free to lend to any borrower they consider a sound

Twenty-Five Years Ago

NOV. 12, 1910

About 225 were in attendance last evening when the class of sophomores of the high school tendered a reception to the freshmen class. Progressive conversation proved enjoyable during the first portion of the evening. Prof. J. A. Cranston acted as master of ceremonies, and called upon the two class presidents, Stuart Smith and Hugh Gale, to make speeches.

Prof. W. A. Bartlett, principal of the high school, made a witty speech, describing a freshman and a sophomore.

Mrs. J. W. Winslow, Tustin, and Mrs. S. G. Shoemaker, Santa Ana, went over to Whittier today to visit with the former's daughter, Mrs. W. S. Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schenberg of North Main street left today for the north to visit with relatives.

Mrs. Charles Bowman, Tustin, entertained the Bide-a-Wee club Thursday evening. An oyster supper was the principal feature. The place cards were very dainty and appropriate for the season. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Lou Allen, Byron Johnson, Dan Adams, Cood Adams, H. Roy Smith and Arthur Lott.

Many easterners on the coast for the winter are finding their way to Santa Ana, with the result that there is much demand for Orange county and Santa Ana property. Houses for rent, especially those of four and five rooms, with fair locations, are hard to find.

FAN DANCE

TO ILLUSTRATE his belief that the danger of a land boom was threatening but not imminent, Henry Wallace recently told a fan-dance story.

He said he was reminded of a cartoon on inflation. It showed the bald-headed row in a theater ogling a fan dancer labeled inflation. But her form was effectively covered with a large fan.

The bald-headed row was saying, "We ain't seen nothin' yet!"

DR. TUGWELL'S HOUSE

BOTH Tugwell's Resettlement administration and Hopkins' Works Progress administration have taken over fabulous private dwellings for office quarters.

One is the Walsh mansion, at 2020 Massachusetts avenue, the other the McLean mansion at 1500 I street, owned by Mrs. Walsh's daughter.

One day an elderly man walked into the I street office, stared at the heavy gilt chandeliers, and explained at great length about his desire to move back to teh farm. "But this is the office of Mr. Hopkins' Works Progress administration," he was told, "and not resettlement."

The man stared. "I thought this was Dr. Tugwell's house," he said. (Copyright, 1935)

Remarkable Remarks

The greatest sinners probably are the philanthropists and the doctors. They have everything they could to keep the unfit—Dr. George Barton Cutten, president, Colgate university.

Some people mock the possibility of Fascist growth here. They are the same people who dismissed Hitler as "silly" 10 years ago—Harvey O'Connor, speaking before Anti-Nazi Federation in Pittsburgh.

A new seriousness has gripped the student. More sense—more plain common sense—has been the keynote. For instance, those wear garters—J. L. Whitcomb, Brown under-graduate.

Saw another parade yesterday. He looked like the sole survivor of a Lost Battalion. He had that human derelict appearance. Maybe in some war he lost the leg. Who knows the record of human emotions which have surged through his veins? So far as I know he may have a congressional medal, or the decorations from other nations concealed somewhere, but he leaned so wearily on his crutches at the corner of Fourth and Main, that he reminded you of the end of the trail. The years had capped his head with gray. The far-away look in his eyes may have carried him back to his boyhood. I don't know. God does. But somehow or other I always figured it out that I'd rather release my feeble hold on the earthly ship, and take a chance with The Captain on the other boat, than continue a desolate existence and endure the curious gaze of a public, whose morbidity offered no comfort or relief.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. (SKINNY) SKIRVIN

Commercial truck and small roadster clinch in front of the postoffice. One of 'em parks with the front wheels turned at an angle of 45 degrees plus, so when he starts out the rear wheels of the roadster are in his way. So that's where the wrest begins, and it keeps going until the referee says "break." These little anxieties, which are for the moment, provoke more excitement than damage.

"Cy" Featherly appeared just before the Armistice day parade to tell us something about the program. Knew all the time it was to be held in Anaheim, but no invitation had been issued to Revolutionary war veterans to participate, so I was not there. "Cy," you got to go farther back if you get me in the parade.

Most of the places which accept my infestation were closed yesterday, so the "dirt" collection was not so large as during the regular run of business. No use to worry about it, the grand jury is in session and able to take care of emergencies.

Haven't the heart to refer to Armistice day weather. It was good for a parade, but not for the rancher. There is consolation in the viewpoint of the old-timer that late rains are the most beneficial. And are we ready for the benefit!

Good friend who thinks so much of me he calls when I get in the center of an intersection where the traffic is the heaviest, and the risk the greatest. Insists the intention was benignant. But that doesn't lessen the danger, so I complete the negotiation and then retrace my steps just to prove his statement. In this case all was well because that is the way it ended.

Had a friendly encounter with Patrolman Bud Hurd, but it required all my finesse to break up a conversation. For this interference it cost me ten cents, but it was worth it—and more.

Overheard conversation between two ladies belonging to a certain organization which was preparing to put on an entertainment. The ladies were requested to bring antiques. One of them was uncertain as to whether she would be able to add anything to the display. Her companion said that situation never bothered her; she always brought her husband.

I've gone to school in an old wooden shack, in a basement where there were too many pupils for the building capacity, and then there were occasional days when I didn't go to school at all, and paid for it the next appearance. Used to try and play clown when the teacher wasn't looking, but by golly never reached the point where I thought I was funny enough to have a tent thrown over me. I'm ready to vote for the school bonds.

Lying on a counter in one of the cafes was an open purse belonging to a lady. On guard was a well-known professional man, and when the inquiry was put up to him as to the location of his beauty parlor, his face looked like a pained fire. Just sort of curious like I loaf around until the ownership appears and, oh, well, there are times when you are justified in waiting.

Saw another parade yesterday. He looked like the sole survivor of a Lost Battalion. He had that human derelict appearance. Maybe in some war he lost the leg. Who knows the record of human emotions which have surged through his veins? So far as I know he may have a congressional medal, or the decorations from other nations concealed somewhere, but he leaned so wearily on his crutches at the corner of Fourth and Main, that he reminded you of the end of the trail. The years had capped his head with gray. The far-away look in his eyes may have carried him back to his boyhood. I don't know. God does. But somehow or other I always figured it out that I'd rather release my feeble hold on the earthly ship, and take a chance with The Captain on the other boat, than continue a desolate existence and endure the curious gaze of a public, whose morbidity offered no comfort or relief.
